Orlando The Beautiful Goes Interactive!

Orlando The Beautiful is proud to announce that it is now interactive! What do we mean by this? In all future issues of our print publications, we are going to encourage our readers to also download a copy of our publications from our web site, OrlandoTheBeautiful.com. By doing so, being a PDF document, they will be able to click on any of our advertisers' ads and it will open their web browser and be taken directly to the advertiser's web site. We will link to either the advertiser's home page, or any specific web page or document of their choice.

THIS IS AN INCREDIBLY POWERFUL FEATURE!

Think of the possibilities! A restaurant, for example, can link their ad to a web page containing their take-out menu. However, they may not even want to link to a web page. Better yet, they can link to a PDF document of their take-out menu, which the reader can then download to their computer for easy future reference.

Advertisers may link to a web page offering special savings exclusively for our readers. Others may link to an order form. Yet others may link to a page of coupons which they can change from time to time. There is virtually no limit on how our advertisers can take advantage of our unique interactive publications. Download our latest issues, which are now interactive, and test it yourself!

Unlike most community publications, each edition of Orlando The Beautiful offers over 200 ads and directory listings of the most current contact information for a local community. Much of this information is hard to find. Our publications presents it in one convenient location. So in addition to having a printed copy, by downloading our publications readers can have an interactive digital copy to keep on their computer desktop for easy reference as needed. They can keep it on all their home and office computers, as well as anyone can who is interested in downloading them. Many individuals may also want to download a copy of both editions. All of this will greatly extend our total circulation and readership!

To help entice our readers to download our publications, we encourage all of our advertisers to provide special offers, coupons, contests, video clips and other interesting features on the linked-to page or document. As our readers begin to realize that there are "hidden" specials beyond what's listed in the printed advertisements, they will be more likely to explore our advertiser's offerings. Each issue of Orlando The Beautiful will encourage readers to download our publications for easy reference and access to our advertisers and community services—and by doing so, find special offers, printable coupons and other surprises that are provided exclusively to the readers of Orlando The Beautiful.

Orlando The Beautiful Is Designed For Longevity!

Orlando The Beautiful is a community information and resource guide published quarterly. We currently publish two editions, the Lake Nona & Moss Park Edition, and the Waterford Lakes edition. Together, we have an estimated readership of 40,000 to 60,000 consumers—and growing! We plan to offer another edition later this year.

The publication contains a Dining In Orlando directory and Your Community Medical Directory and other important contact information for local utility services, schools, community and emergency services, and state and local government agencies. It also contains several pages of graphically designed themed puzzles created by the publisher to entertain and amuse our readers and to help ensure readership and interest.

Whether a reader is looking to place a take-out order via phone, make a reservation at a restaurant or simply trying to decide where to dine out at, our dining guide will make the process quick and easy. Readers will find our medical directory a great resource when fulfilling their medical needs. With our directories, contact pages and ads we provide over 200 bits of the most updated and current contact information and resources available for our readers. We also highly encourage our advertisers to place coupons, discounts and special exclusive offers in their ads—and now being interactive on their link-to web pages—thus providing our readers with substantial savings and making our publications an extremely valuable and unique resource.

Our advertising rates are among the lowest in the industry. We can achieve this because we are family owned and operated. A Directory Listing in our publications, for example, is only $30 or $35 per issue. Place a listing in both editions at a cost of only $60 and reach out to an estimated 40,000 to 60,000 consumers. That's downright unbeatable!

We purposely design our publications small so that they can be easily stored—and always with a beautiful cover so that our readers can proudly display them on their counter top or coffee table. Orlando The Beautiful is designed for longevity—whereas our readers will hold on to each issue and refer to it often as they go about their daily lives.
